

Joint Master in Migration and Intercultural Relations

JMMIR

NGO in Ethiopia: The Case of People in Need

Student's name: Klara Davidova

Klara Davidova's research is focused on the role of Czech NGO People in Need relief and development aid workers in the process of relief aid and development assistance in Ethiopia. She developed an adequate research question as this is an interesting and important topic. She structured her research in satisfactory way presenting the background and contradictions behind humanitarian work and organizations and using a vast selection of appropriate literature. She builds a theoretical framework and moves to the history of People in Need organization. For her empirical part she uses appropriate methodology using interviewing and analyzing interviews.

In the conclusion she than answers her research questions in a convincing way opening some new questions and dilemmas.

The thesis is convincing, well planned and the conclusions are interesting.

Overall evaluation: A - excellent

Date:

25.5.2013

Jure Gombač
Univerza v Novi Gorici