Questions and comments

Critical comments and overall contributions, total value of the thesis

The thesis are excellent structured and work with literature and methods was very precious. I do appreciate all detailed description and interpretation of all interviews

All topics were also very transparently defined.

An Important fact seems to be involvement in project and personal experience with intercultural communication.

Questions and topics for discussion before the commission

I am not sure that I could agree with your statement "I evaluated online Skype interviews as the most ideal data collection tool". In my opinion the direct face to face interview could give you more flexibility and immediateness reaction. So could you explain me your preference for skype communication and not for phone one for example?

I know that six interviews are all right as a background for qualitative study, but I am not sure that you can make any kind of generalization? I mean your statement that your Master thesis provides an exclusive insight into the functioning of European collaborative projects....
