Questions and comments

Critical comments and overall contributions, total value of the thesis

The presented master theses show a high erudition of the author and the ability to analyze indicators of development and to evaluate on their basis the future development trends. The author worked independently and consulted her progress on research results on a regular basis. The issue of extraordinary measures brought to the final form of the work the aspect that the work is written on the basis of mainly electronic sources (professional books, scientific journals available in electronic databases).

Questions and topics for discussion before the commission

Which indicators would also be interesting to follow within the same goals as the Europe 2020 strategy?
