

Průběh obhajoby diplomové práce:

The student has answered all evaluators' questions. She answered also other questions, for instance:

Did you link your categories issued from interviews with the theory - did they correspond with the theory?

Do the universities mean the topic of sustainable development, or is it rather a fashionable topic for them?

The commission saw some methodological issues in the thesis. The commission also missed a discussion of the results and more concrete conclusions and prospects.
