Specific comments and questions to the thesis defence:

The student's diploma thesis meets the formal requirements for qualification theses.
Under the guidance of the supervisor, the student fulfilled the goal of the thesis assignment.
Despite several minor shortcomings, both formal and a few inaccurate statements, the work can be evaluated positively.

Despite the fact that the thesis showed 16% agreement when checked for plagiarism, it is not plagiarism. The agreement arose when comparing this thesis with another thesis by the same supervisor and an article, which used the same material for the topic. Therefore, the works are similar especially in the methodology part and partially in the description of the results.

I have the following questions:

- 1) What substances will the wheat ones be enriched with when buckwheat sprouts are added?
- 2) Can it be assumed, based on literature data, that these substances will be reduced due to baking?

I recommend the qualification work to the thesis defence (YES/NO): YES

Proposed final classification:
