Supervisor's report on Manuel Stammer

Manuel Stammer joined our group as a bachelor student to study a new topic, which aims to stimulate protective immunity against Sphaerospora molnari through the administration of a probiotic treatment containing α -GAL-rich Escherichia coli strain.

I greatly appreciate Manuel's enthusiasm and independence in learning new methods during his bachelor study. This is a very important feature and a prerequisite for any good student. He was able very independently work in our laboratory and formulate obtained results. He was also able to write the final bachelor thesis very independently with a minimum supervisor editing.

Finally, I would like to emphasise that Manuel was not only a hard-working member of our lab, but also a very nice person who was a pleasure to work with. I wish him every success in his future. I am convinced that Manuel meets the criteria for awarding a bachelor's degree from the Faculty of Sciences of the University of South Bohemia.
